BRITISH PRESSURE IS STEADILY INCREASING ROUND BARDIA AS NEW FORCES ARRIVE

Sollum, Fort Capuzzo, Several Frontier Posts Captured

"FIGHTING CONTINUES ROUND BARDIA WHERE BRITISH PRESSURE IS STEADILY INCREASING AS NEW FORCES ARRIVE. THE END OF THE RAINY PERIOD HAS ENABLED US TO CONTINUE FURTHER AIR ACTIVITY. THERE WAS NO CHANGE ON THE SUDAN FRONT," states the latest communique from Cairo, according to a London message.

It was pointed out that the British forces are now more than 150 miles from their rail head and that this factor must be borne in mind in considering further developments.

Reuter adds that a communique just issued in Cairo says: "In addition to Sollum and Fort Capuzzo, the British forces yesterday captured several frontier posts including that of Sidi Omar."

"Last night Australian troops successfully engaged an enemy column by moonlight and captured one gun and other material."

BRITAIN'S FINANCIAL POSITION

DOLLAR EXCHANGE QUESTION

A recent statement from New York, official statement from New York, gives details of the discussion in the United States on Britain's financial position, states a London message.

According to the statement, a formal application for financial assistance would not necessarily take the form of a loan.

British official circles pointed out that the whole question was one of dollar exchange.

It is now indicated that the question came up from Britain's needs for aeroplanes, ships and other material which she must buy from the United States and the British Government is anxious to make full use as possible of the vast resources of the United States. It is assumed that the question was raised in conversations which Sir Frederick Phillips, Third Secretary to the British Treasury, has had in the United States.

O.S.K. SHIP HELD AT DURBAN

TOKYO, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—Contrary to previous reports, officials in Durban have so far refused to release the Osaka Shosen Kaisha freighter Kwanto Maru, a spokesman of the Cabinet Information Board told foreign correspondents this morning.

The vessel was en route to Japan from South America and the Japanese authorities are negotiating with British officials for the ship's release.

Bad Week For British Shipping

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—Twenty-three ships aggregating 101,190 tons, were lost by enemy action during the week ending midnight Dec. 8, announces the Admiralty. The Germans claim to have sunk 243,000 tons during that period.

The losses are made up of 19 British ships, totalling 86,740 tons, three Allied ships, 12,937 tons, and one neutral of 1,513 tons.

A good proportion of the British losses were accounted for on one especially "black" day, Reuter understands.

Naval circles stress these losses are not entirely due to the U-boat menace and that the danger of mines, bombers and enemy raiders must not be overlooked.

The average weekly total merchant losses since the beginning of the war—excluding the Dunkirk period—is now 63,192 tons, it is authoritatively stated.

The sending forward of troops beyond Bardia was a precaution to see that the Italian garrison there did not interfere with the capture of Sollum.

It is also reported that the British forces include a number of Greek volunteers living in Egypt.

"Details of the capture of Fort Capuzzo are still awaited, but according to Turkish reports, the British columns are now 20 miles beyond Bardia," Reuter adds.

It is believed to be still holding out, but reports state that it has been outflanked by British troops.

HEAVY ATTACK

In the meantime, the Navy is continuing a steady shelling of the Libyan coast which has also been subject to a heavy attack by the Air Force.

Rain has now set in, but is not likely to last more than a few days.

The capture of Sollum and Fort Capuzzo was a culmination of three days' fierce fighting. The heaviest fighting was at Hell Fire Pass and one report says that the Italians defending the Pass were wiped out.

The Royal Air Force kept the Italian Air Force grounded and a large quantity of war material has again fallen into British hands. The Italians have described the battle as "the greatest of modern time."

The General who took part in the fighting was General Michael Creagh, formerly of the 7th Hussars.

FULL OF LIBYANS

It is too early yet for correspondence with the British forces to report of the fighting but an Australian correspondent, who followed behind the advance, stated that the first information of the battle in progress was when they found a camp full of Libyan prisoners.

HUGE OVERSEAS DONATIONS

Fruits Of Mission Of Gen. Wu Te-chen

CHUNGKING, Dec. 17 (Central).—Huge donations have been made by the Chinese in the South Sea regions as a result of the good-will visit of General Wu Te-chen, Minister of Overseas Affairs, according to word received here. Gen. Wu is now touring British Malaya.

The donations include $100,000 from the Dutch East Indies. Contributions are also being made by the Chinese in Malaya and it is expected that the amount will exceed the $700,000 mark.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has dispatched a telegram to Gen. Wu asking the latter to convey his thanks to the overseas Chinese for their patriotic efforts.

Anti-Japan Sentiment Growing In Canada

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 17 (Reuter).—The hostility of Japan towards British interests in the Far East has aroused increasing anti-Japanese sentiment in Canada, particularly British Columbia, where Japanese immigrants have taken a substantial hold in several fields of commerce and industry, according to reports received here.

Japan's alliance with the Axis Powers and the two years of growing tension amongst Canadians have given rise to a competition for their own "home markets."

Canada has maintained a policy of neutrality towards Japan owing to British interests in the Far East. Events may well lead to a stand against Japan's aggression.

NOTORIOUS ACTIVITIES. Their activities are becoming more and more notorious. Government officials had to be introduced to the Japanese.

They are now being introduced to the Japanese. They are now being introduced to the Japanese. They are now being introduced to the Japanese.

Though one copper mine has been operated by the Japanese in the past most of the copper supplies for Japan was purchased from American-owned mines until the Government placed an embargo on it.

This embargo, it is believed, is an unmistakable sign of a stiffer attitude to Japanese infiltration into British Columbia at this time.

Scrap-iron, nickel and aluminium are already barred to Japan. Exports of lead may next be forbidden, it is predicted.

Britain's Trade With The N.E.I.

The Secretary of State for the Colonies, Lord Lloyd, gave some facts in the House of Lords yesterday about the development of trade between Britain and the Netherlands East Indies, says a London message.

The Dutch East Indies and Malaya had come to an agreement, he said, for the sale of goods to dollar countries and the two Governments were maintaining full liaison by the appointment of a joint committee to discuss all trade matters.

Lord Lloyd said that he hoped this co-operation would be continued after the war.

Today's War Summary

BOTH NEW ZEALAND AND AUSTRALIAN TROOPS have taken part in the victorious advance in Northern Africa as well as an Indian division. Military circles in London deprecate speculation as to further advances in the near future and point out the attacking force is now 150 miles from the rail head. Sollum and Fort Capuzzo have been captured.

FORMAL APPLICATIONS FOR FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE which would not necessarily take the form of a loan have been made by Sir Frederick Phillips, the British Treasury official, in the course of consultations he has been conducting in Washington.

RECENT BROADCASTS BY SIR ROBERT VANSITTART indicating German aggressiveness throughout history were the subject of criticism in the Commons yesterday when a Labour member asked whether the declared policy that Britain desires nothing humiliating to the German people had been changed.

LATEST SHIPPING LOSSES CONSTITUTE what can only be termed a bad week. For the week ending Dec. 8, 101,190 tons of merchant ships and cargoes were sunk by enemy action.

A THIRD KENNY AGENT, A DUTCH SUBJECT born in Japan, has been executed in London. He was tried at the Central Criminal Court with two other enemy agents who were executed last week.

DEMOCRACY NEITHER DEAD, DYING NOR DECADENT: AMERICAN EAGLE CLUB OPENED IN LONDON

"The sensibilities of our people at home will have to be dulled beyond comprehension if they failed, in action or spirit, short of nothing, to help the efforts of the British people in maintaining for us a decent world in which decent people wish to live in. This club will be a small contribution from us here to this end and I now declare the American Eagle Club opened."

General Wade Hayes, of the United States Army, made these remarks in London yesterday on the occasion of the opening of the American Eagle Club, which is to offer hospitality, not only to the Americans in the British armed forces, but, as the Chairman of the Committee of the Club stated, to all the members of the fighting forces, "no matter of what race, rank or nationality."

TWO FACTORS

Before declaring the club open, General Wade Hayes said that Americans who had been privileged to be in England had had an opportunity to get a close view of the greatest fight the civilised world had ever faced.

"There are two factors," he said, "which must be emphasised—one is that we have seen the British people displaying a determination which is a credit to the British people and the other is that we have seen the Americans displaying a determination which is a credit to the Americans."

"The second factor was that in this war, democracy was neither dead, dying nor decadent," (Prolonged cheers). General Wade Hayes then declared the club opened.

Mr. Hutchinson, Chairman of the Committee of the Club, who addressed the distinguished gathering before the opening ceremony was performed by Gen. Wade Hayes, said the Americans who had sponsored the building of the Club were deeply glad to have done so. They had been deeply moved by the thousands of young American boys who had enlisted to fight for freedom.

"I think it is an example of the finest kind of spirit that a man will risk his life, not only for his own country, but for the country of his friends," said Mr. Hutchinson, amidst loud cheers, "and further than that, for an ideal which he believes will even benefit his enemies."

A HIGH IDEAL. "This is a high ideal indeed and worthy of our best efforts to honour. Few people realise what you American boys have done in this war. We realise it here and I am referring also to the field services—those organisation of ambulance workers and others which did such great work up to the moment that France fell."

"These people are telling your people over there about you and about this club which has been opened for you and about the British Broadcasting Corporation, which, together with the great Cont'd Page 7, Col. 1

London To Have More Deep Raid Shelters

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—London is to have more deep air raid shelters in addition to those provided by the tube railway.

Speaking this morning, Mr. Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary, said: "The work of giving London additional deep shelters has begun. Tunnelling is being done from three stations and seven others are being surveyed as a preliminary to tunnelling."

Referring to the improved conditions in the shelters Mr. Morrison added that the "best of the Government's own plan of the past few years is being carried out. The greatest health in large shelters is being counteracted and he expected that the tube sanitation problem will be solved within the next few weeks."

CONGRESS OF PEACE

VICHY, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—The 35th Eucharistic Congress which was to have been held in Nice but was postponed because of the war will now be held there when the hostilities have ended, said Monsignor Remond, Bishop of Nice, in a Press statement today. The Congress will be called the "Congress of Peace."

Vansittart's Broadcasts: Criticism In Commons: Answer By Mr. Churchill

Recent broadcasts by SIR ROBERT VANSITTART, Chief Diplomatic Adviser to the Foreign Secretary, indicating German aggressiveness throughout history brought criticism in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, states Reuter.

One Labour member demanded to know whether the broadcasts were made with the Government's approval and whether the declared policy that Britain desires nothing humiliating to the German people had been changed.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, answered in general terms that many interesting viewpoints were put forward in Britain without the Government being committed to them and Government, as well as Parliament, approved of this principle of free discussion within the limits of the law.

In the meantime the policy of the Government is declared by its responsible Ministers. A Conservative member asked whether it was not necessary or desirable that the Germans suffer the humiliation of defeat. Mr. Churchill replied: "We shall be content if they suffer defeat."

NO TRANSITORY REJOICING

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—Britain is not going to be officially encouraged to indulge in transitory rejoicing about local victories. It was suggested in the House of Commons that any signal victory by land, sea or air be marked by flags on Government buildings and the public be invited to do likewise. The Prime Minister remarked he did not recollect that we had any

Churchill's Message To Greeks

Lord Halifax, Foreign Secretary, brought a message to the Greeks from Mr. Winston Churchill, Prime Minister, at the Anglo-Hellenic League luncheon in London yesterday.

Lord Halifax said:—"The Prime Minister asked me to give a message to this company and to the Greeks of his unstinted admiration for the Greeks at this time and of his confidence in victory for the common cause in which Greece and Britain are now engaged."

"Our recent action in the Western Desert of Egypt has been rendered more effective by the brilliant initiative of the Greek Army in Albania," said Lord Halifax, adds Reuter.

Lord Halifax paid cordial tribute to the "masterly skill" with which Generals Metaxas and Papagos are executing the campaign in Albania.

TANGIBLE LINK. Co-operation of the Greek volunteers in Egypt formed a tangible link between the Albanian and Western Desert offensives. Until the day of victory, Lord Halifax declared, we are determined to strike unrelentingly at the common enemy.

The Mediterranean Fleet and the R.A.F. had been proud to co-operate with the gallant defenders of Greece. By their means, said by Lord Halifax, we are doing and will continue to do all in our power to hasten the inevitable victory.

"It is too much to hope," he asked, "that once more the shock of the battle between Greece and Rome will eventually lead the people of Italy back to the paths of peaceful arts which they have been deflected by evil counsellers?"

BRITAIN'S DAILY EXPENDITURE

Britain's daily expenditure for the last week was $11,400,000 which showed a drop of more than $400,000, as compared with the previous week, states a London message.

Speculation Busy With Name Of Lloyd George For Washington Post

Reuter's Lobby correspondent writes from London that speculation remains very busy with the name of MR. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE as a possible successor to the late Lord Lothian in Washington but such reports may be discounted.

It is believed that such an appointment would be warmly welcomed in very high Government quarters.

One of the considerations advanced by advocates of this appointment is that Mr. Lloyd George while willing to serve the country would take to the United States any fruitful capacity, considered at a moment when it was most a younger man should receive the needed, his unrivalled knowledge, post.

But all such arguments disregard the fact that Mr. Lloyd George is 78 years of age and in the view of many he cannot reasonably be expected to take

ROTARIAN ADVOCATES A THOROUGH RE-ANALYSIS OF ECONOMIC SYSTEM

Speaking to the Rotary Club of Hongkong at their weekly (15th) meeting yesterday on the theme "Some Thoughts of an Amateur Economist," ROTARIAN H. L. DAWSON advocated a thorough re-analysis of the economic system now followed throughout the world and suggested that the present world war was brought about by a capitalist economy that was fallacious in the extreme and undemocratic even if practiced in democratic countries.

"There are conservative people in every age who think that unless things stay as they are, the whole social order may be smashed. Many of you may think that there is very little wrong with the present system, so let us examine a few examples, Rotarian Dawson said.

"The greatest money-maker in the history of the world was Rockefeller. His constructive work in building a great business must be admitted as must be his pioneering in the field of efficiency and honest administration. His vast donations to charity must be admitted for their broadness of conception and dignity of purpose.

MANY CRITICS
"What then is there to criticize? He had many critics in his time, most of them unjustified. Let us go back to the year 1849 when America was aflame over the discovery of gold.

"Young John Rockefeller, just 10 years old, made an equally famous discovery for himself. He discovered interest.
"One day he was told a farmer, near-by, wished to borrow $50. The farmer was willing to pay seven per cent interest. This boy, wise in money beyond his years, loaned the grown man $50.

"A year later the farmer handed John $50 and three dollars and fifty cents interest along with it. The quiet, solemn-faced boy looked hard at that interest. He been hoeing potatoes for another man and had just been paid for the work. It amounted to 375 cents a day, which was very good pay for a boy.

"As he looked at his interest-money an illuminating thought broke in his mind. (This $3.75 interest was as much as 10 days' pay. This $50 had been working for him all through that year, night and day, and had earned for him as much as he could earn himself, working hard all day for ten full days. What if he had another $50 at work and many of them. (The discovery fascinated him. In later years he said: "From that time onward I determined to make money work for me."

STILL INTACT

"He gave the Rockefeller Foundation alone over $182 million and between 1922 and 1928 the Rockefeller Foundation gave away over $141 million. After which the principal was still intact.

"In the first 40 years of his oil organisation, the workers received in wages over $800 million. In that same time Rockefeller and a few associates had drawn a sum equally as large in dividends and there still remained, as undistributed assets, a sum as large again, the property of Rockefeller and his colleagues.

"There seems to be something out of gear in a system that makes so disproportionate a distribution of the rewards of industry. Remember this all happened in spite of the fact that Rockefeller paid as good, if not better, wages than most of his contemporaries; and Rockefeller did not loot his enterprise through use of medium or stock-jobbing operations, as most of his contemporaries did.

"His organisation was looked upon, in the matter of administration and treatment of labour as capitalistic administration at its very best. But even at its best Capitalism, as a system, may need adjustment.

"What of the public divided in the way of lower prices for oil? There is little evidence that Rockefeller's organisation was ever actuated in his day by any overmastering desire to lower prices.

"BABY COTTONWOOL"

As another example of the present economic system, Mr. Dawson suggested a fictitious example in "Miss Baby Cottonwool." "She inherits a few million pounds from her father and, by reason of her wealth alone, establishes not only for herself but for her great-grandchildren, an infinitum, a claim to be supported by the community in perpetual idleness and luxury, without contributing any further effort towards the common benefit.

ONE-ACT PLAYS IN AID OF "BOMBER FUND"

Fine Performances At St. Andrew's

St. Andrew's Church Hall was packed to capacity last night when the St. Andrew's Club staged three one-act plays, in aid of the "Bomber Fund."

"Murder at the Bugginess" a comedy-thriller, was very well presented and thoroughly deserved the ovation it received. Among the cast was its producer, Mr. A. C. Jeffreys who took the part of Pa Bugginess. Robina Andrews was Grandma, and Rita Cole Mrs. Bugginess.

Others in the cast were Grace Darby as Emma, Dora Lanchester as Miss Meekin the Sunday School teacher, Dorothy Shaw and Dorothy Wilson as the two neighbours, Mrs. Teggins and Mrs. Molar, and Ralph Spence and Leslie Millington as Mrs. Wilson and Charlie Daggs, friends of the "Old Man."

FINE PERFORMANCE

"It is quicker to telephone" kept the audience in constant laughter and the players, Janet Broadbridge, John Moulton, Charles Thom, and Rita Cole, are to be congratulated on giving such a fine performance.

"Send her victorious," produced by Mr. Stanley Tafford, was on a more serious theme and tells of but why spoil the enjoyment of those who intend to see these plays on Thursday, Dec. 19 by diverting the theme of this charming play? Suffice it to say that all those taking part—Leslie Goodwin, Ralph Dormer, Iris Joyce, Rupert Baldwin, and Aletha Hirst—played their respective characters exceedingly well, and fully deserved the applause accorded them.

gifts and accomplishments possessed by the deceased lady.

A great part of her extremely active life was devoted to the healing and comforting of those in need of moral and material aid or guidance or in mitigating the sufferings of all those—and there were many—who appealed to her for help.

Her benefactions were widely distributed, many of them unknown to others until after the lady's death, and were always given with kindness and simplicity and to a large extent with complete anonymity, while the assistance given by her to those the needy was never begrudged, regardless of the station of life of those who appealed to her for assistance.

With the passing of this lady, Macao has lost not only one of its most gifted and distinguished citizens but also a friend of the whole community, as shown by the enormous attendance at the funeral and the memorial service which took place for the repose of her soul.

In one of the articles which appeared in the Macao "A Voz de Macao" in honour of the late Mrs. Gellion the writer lays stress on the fact that "Providence, to whom the great qualities, which were such an important part of her being were known, has so ordained that she has been called to a well-earned rest, and eternal happiness and this thought should help to console and comfort the bereaved husband in the heavy loss which he has suffered by the loss of his good and devoted companion for so many years, while to the family and all her friends her memory will remain always as a name engraved in letters of gold because of the truly great and fine qualities of her heart and character.

AN APPRECIATION

Mrs. F. J. Gellion

A memorial service in honour of the late Madame Gellion took place at the Penha Church on Saturday, Dec. 14, and was attended by the leading residents of the Colony, among them His Excellency the Governor of Macao, Commander Gabriel Teixeira and Madame Teixeira, and many others. The service was conducted by His Lord the Bishop of Macao, D. Jose da Costa Nunes.

The late Mrs. Maria da Piedade Telles de Menezes Gellion who passed away on Dec. at her residence "Skyline," from a heart attack, following a relatively short illness, was well known all over the Far East, and the Macao press continue to publish appreciations of the deceased lady, while telegraphic messages of condolence with her bereaved husband Mr. F. J. Gellion, General Manager of the Macao Electric Lighting Company, Limited, and the Macao Water Supply Company, Ltd., and Vice Consul for Great Britain, have been received from the wide circle of friends of the late Mrs. Gellion, throughout the Far East, as well as from friends and relatives in the U. S. A., Portugal and England.

Mrs. Gellion was a member of the old Portuguese nobility and a lady in the highest sense of the term, and linked with her distinguished descent she possessed extraordinary qualities of mind and character, and the Macao press point out her nobility of purpose, self-abnegation, and generosity all in conjunction with the great personal charm and exceptional

EDGAR HOOVER'S THRILLING STORY OF A DANGEROUS RACKET!

A shoot-em-up melodrama which stands head and shoulders above all G-men pictures. In the United States there are 14,000 habitual criminals on parole, 30% of these convicted men bought their parole through shyster lawyers and crooked politicians, no punches are pulled in exposing this nefarious political racket.

JUNGLE THRILLER AT MAJESTIC

"Tarzan And The Green Goddess"

There have been thrill dramas with variegated backgrounds without number flashed across local movie screens in recent months but none quite measures comparably with "Tarzan and the Green Goddess," the latest of the Edgar Rice Burroughs' tales to be picture.

This latest exploit of Burroughs' familiar jungle hero comes to the screen of the Majestic Theatre tomorrow and is packed with sheer thrills of the type that keeps one gripping firmly to his seat from the opening sequence to the final fade-out.

An entire expedition trekked to the dense jungles of Guatemala, where much of the action takes place and the combination of the wooded darkness, jungle beasts and savage intrigue aid in supplying the fast-paced plot with its multitude of excitements.

And, as if that weren't sufficient, the producers bring the story to its thrilling climax with one of the most tempestuous ocean storms—with all the principal's aboard an antiquated four-masted—ever witnessed.

Herman Eddy, ex-Olympic athlete and college football hero, fills the title role with all the adequate conception of the familiar Tarzan character and is admirably sufficient in the dramatic and romantic episodes of the story. Others who aid in unfolding the plot of "Tarzan and the Green Goddess" include: Ula Holt, Frank Baker, Don Castle, Lew Sargent and Jack Mower.

CHUNGKING OPTIMISTIC ABOUT WAR

Chungking is optimistic about the outcome of the war of resistance, said Mr. Chang Pei-chih, representative of the overseas Chinese in Cuba to the National People's Assembly and overseas inspecting commissioner, when interviewed by Central News upon his return from Chungking.

Mr. Chang said that while in Chungking he interviewed both Mr. Lin Sen, Chairman of the National Government, and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and found them in good health and in high spirits.

Mr. Chang praised the progress in reconstruction in the wartime capital. He was also impressed with the energetic spirit of the Party workers, civil officials and military officers in Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Hunan.

Mr. Chang is returning to Cuba to solicit overseas-Chinese investments for the development of industries in China and may take another trip to China next year.

cent in the dramatic and romantic episodes of the story. Others who aid in unfolding the plot of "Tarzan and the Green Goddess" include: Ula Holt, Frank Baker, Don Castle, Lew Sargent and Jack Mower.

FOR THE 1 MAN IN 7 WHO SHAVES EVERY DAY

A Special Shave Cream—It's Not a Soap, Needs No Brush!

Daily shaving leaves many men's faces raw and sensitive. Yet, because of his business and social status, one out of every 7 men must shave every day.

To meet this condition, Williams has now developed GLIDER—a special cream for daily shavers. With no soap base, it's a complete departure from ordinary shave creams. No brush. No lather. Not sticky or greasy.

A superabundance of moisture is contained in this rich cream. It won't dry on your face. Applied with the fingers, it quickly softens each whisker. A protective layer is formed over which your razor glides. Off comes each hair at the base without scraping. Like a cold cream, Glider helps keep your skin smooth all day. Glider is the result of nearly 100 years' experience in making fine shaving preparations.

ITALIANS DRIVEN FROM LAST STRONGHOLD IN EGYPT

Capuzzo Captured: Sollum Encircled By British

CAIRO, Dec. 17 (REUTERS)—EIGHT DAYS AFTER THE START OF THE BRITISH OFFENSIVE IN THE WESTERN DESERT the Italians have been driven from their last stronghold in Egypt and their strongly fortified fort at Capuzzo, some miles inside the Libyan frontier, has been captured by the British Imperial forces. Capuzzo was the scene of sharp fighting early this year when it changed hands several times.

Desperate fighting accompanied the struggle for possession of Halfiya (Hell Fire) Pass which winds through the escarpment overlooking Sollum. The Pass was finally taken when the British stormed and captured the Italian camp on the summit.

The seizing of Sollum may prove an important factor in the continuation of the campaign as vessels landing supplies are able to get close ashore.

A Reuter message from London says that Marshal Graziani's troops are strongly entrenched in Sollum which is just inside Egypt, and that British forces have encircled them and sweeping on across the Libyan frontier.

Meanwhile, the R.A.F. continues to hammer the enemy's bases. Including Bardia, which may be the next objective of the Army of the Nile.

VIVID STORY OF ADVANCE

CAIRO, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—A vivid story of a trip of five days across the Western Desert by a band of picked Australian cameramen trying to catch up with the Imperial troops was told me by Captain Frank Hurley, official cameraman with the Australian Forces in the Near East, who has made a complete film record of the offensive, writes Reuter's correspondent with the Army of the Nile.

Captain Hurley, who acted as official photographer in France in the last war and made five trips to the South Pole with Shackleton and Mawson, described how, after driving 40 miles, they found a camp full of some 2,000 miserable Libyan prisoners guarded by a score of Tommies.

A Sergeant Major was watering the prisoners in batches of 20 from a disused Roman well cut in solid rock.

UNFORGETTABLE SIGHT

Hurley described the Nibelwa camp as an unforgettable sight, silent as a grave. Everybody had moved on except two British Tommies left in charge of British tanks damaged in action.

Italian dead lay all around, their bodies caked in dust. Hurley counted 38 Italian tanks—some smashed, others abandoned and damaged. Stray mules and dogs were prowling round a dump of ammunition and stores.

Near Nibawa, the party came across another camp holding at least 7,000 or 8,000 Italian prisoners, sitting in groups, laughing and smoking.

Captain Hurley described the Italians as well-fed, clothed and shod, contrasting with the Libyans.

SCENES OF CONFUSION

Similar scenes of confusion met the eyes of the party at the Italian camp at Tumma just south of Sidi Barrani. Field guns were lying all over the place and the Italian officers had left so hurriedly that even their valises were left behind.

Capt. Hurley concluded: "We pelted on in an endeavour to catch up with the battle but the Imperial forces were moving at the rate of 50 miles a day. Then we heard the roar of naval guns bombarding Sidi Barrani."

GREATEST COLONIAL BATTLE

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—"The greatest colonial battle in history" is how the Giornale d'Italia describes the military operations in North Africa.

Significantly emphasising British strength in North Africa, the newspaper declares: "The British Command has launched in battle 300,000 men from the four corners of the Empire and 800 armoured cars and tanks."

It adds: "With such powerful means, the most powerful empire in the world believes that it can render hors-de-combat one of the peoples of the Axis. The events of the next few days will prove that this is an erroneous calculation."

SEPARATE PEACE

Replying to a question by an American journalist who spoke of the advantages to Britain of a separate peace with Italy, the Giornale d'Italia declares: "Italy is unshakably at its fighting post and will not withdraw."

EXCURSIONS OF PIRATES

VICHY STATEMENT ON INDO-CHINA INCIDENTS

VICHY, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—The integrity of Indo-China is to be maintained absolutely intact says a statement issued yesterday by the French Ministry of Colonies in connexion with the Thailand frontier incidents.

Complaining about frequent border raids in which "intolerable attacks on Indo-Chinese persons and property" were made and French and natives even killed; and recalling that Thai planes bombed several Indo-Chinese localities, the official statement says that as reprisal Indo-Chinese aircraft "dropped bombs on an equivalent number of Siamese localities."

The statement concludes that "the Government of Thailand will doubtless not delay in reducing to order these unfortunate excursions of pirates or leaders of military units" at a distance from Bangkok.

RESTLESSNESS IN SYRIA

Appointment Of Gen. Dentz Disapproved

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—The nomination of General Dentz as French High Commissioner for Syria and Lebanon caused some restlessness in these territories, according to information reaching the French news agency.

Sabotage of railways and in fact several reported. Despite several appeals General De Gaulle's appeal was distributed throughout Syria and Lebanon.

It is also noteworthy, state the Free French Agency, that the present restlessness coincides with the reorganising or administrative services in mandated territory.

Capture Of Tepelini Imminent

ITALIAN GENERAL TAKEN PRISONER

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—Another Italian General has been taken prisoner by the Greeks in the fighting in Albania. According to an Athens report a General, a Colonel and other officers have been taken prisoner or fell in battle during the capture of a height in the southern sector.

The Greeks are maintaining pressure on all the other fronts and attacking with violence. Another height of strategic importance is reported to have been taken. Many prisoners are being taken together with considerable quantities of war material.

One report from the front states that reinforcements from Italy are being sent straight into battle without preliminary organisation—a possible indication of Italian weakness.

ITALIAN SUPPLY PROBLEM
The Italians are finding it increasingly difficult to make full use of the port of Valona which is being raided incessantly by the R.A.F. Much damage has been caused and the supply problem is causing the Italians grave anxiety. Greek advance towards Tepelini is reported and the fall of this important town is regarded as imminent. The Greeks are moving to outflank the Italian line of defence in this sector.

Vicious S'hai Murder

FRENCH LEGAL ADVISER SHOT NEAR HOME

SHANGHAI, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—M. E. d'Hooghe, legal adviser to the French Municipal Council and one of the leading French citizens, was shot dead by a Chinese near his home in the French Concession yesterday evening in one of the most vicious and sensational murders in Shanghai's history.

M. d'Hooghe was a judge in the French Consular Court till 1932.

It is not known whether the murder was occasioned by political motives, but the city was shocked by the crime.

As legal adviser d'Hooghe had a leading part in the negotiations which resulted in the recent transfer of the two Chinese Courts in the French Concession to the jurisdiction of the Nanking regime.

The gunman made good his escape.

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—In accordance with the new Nazi propaganda decision, the German radio yesterday gave an exaggerated account of shipping losses but made no reference at all to the British and Greek victories.

We Are Not Down-Hearted, Says Bristol

KING TOURS CITY'S DEVASTATED AREAS

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—Standing on a heap of blackened ruins in Bristol yesterday, His Majesty the King talked to a woman whose home lay in ruins.

The woman, carrying a baby daughter in her arms, told the King how she, with three other daughters and a baby, was buried for hours beneath tons of bricks, tiles and broken glass when Bristol had its big bombing attack recently.

The King travelled several miles through the city to see the devastation caused by recent raids, and at several points where he left his car, he was completely surrounded by cheering men and women, many of whom shouted "We are not down-hearted. God bless Your Majesty."

CHEERED BY STUDENTS

The tour included a visit to Bristol University, where the King inspected the damage to the Great Hall and was cheered by a crowd of men and women students.

His Majesty also had a meeting with his mother, Queen Mary, who is now living in the West Country, and who gave the King her good wishes on his birthday.

SAVAGE ATTACKS

Savage machine-gunning attacks on Britain were carried out by German planes yesterday. Their "targets" included an east coast light ship, a town in East Anglia, a railway train and boys cycling to school. Some of the boys were injured.

CASH GIFTS TO BRITAIN ADVOCATED

MRS. ROOSEVELT ON PAST MISTAKES

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (Reuters)—Outright cash gifts to Britain rather than loans, were advocated by Mrs. Roosevelt at a press conference yesterday.

Asked where such a gift would come from, she replied: "From Government," adding, "ultimately they would come from the pockets of you and me."

"A certain number of people," she continued, "are under the impression that we are giving aid to England, but we must face the reality. We are being paid."

INDUSTRY STIMULATED

She added that gifts would be less likely to involve the United States in war than would loans. Sending supplies to Britain had been helpful to the United States in that it had helped to stimulate industry in the interests of the United States National Defence.

"We do not see that there must be a reason to talk about loans. We should not make the mistakes we made the last time."

Mrs. Roosevelt nodded when asked if she meant that these loans were not repaid.

FORMAL BRITISH REQUEST

Another message stated that Britain has formally requested financial assistance from the United States. It is learned from a high official source who refused to be quoted.

The amount and the exact nature of the request would not be disclosed but it is hinted it could not be defined as an "application for a loan."

GIFT PROBLEMS SOLVED

CHRISTMAS IS ONLY A WEEK AWAY! Everyone has yet a good half dozen persons to remember with some token of goodwill, some gifts that will be remembered well past the Christmas season and that will serve, so to put it, as insurance against indifference, as a good reason why you yourself will not be forgotten on numerous occasions throughout the coming year.

But the problem arises, what to give Dick and Tom and the Atkins's son, or Timothy or Aunt Martha or that little brat of a girl who makes so uncomfortable your mahjong and bridge visits at the Willkins' place. These problems have all to be solved, and the suggestions below are yours for perusal.

TOYLAND FOR KIDDIES

First, of course, remember the children. Toys always please, and there is no better selection of these than at the SINCERE EMPORIUM'S TOYLAND. Take the kids along with you to get an idea as to what they are particularly keen on and take them to "Aqualand" on the second floor.

For the older boy or girl, go next door to the WING ON COMPANY. If your child is to be a scholar, why not start him or her off right with an Esterbrook Fountain Pen this Christmas. It is the only fountain pen on the market offering 18 point styles, one to suit every hand and every style.

Christmas is not only for the children. The grown-ups are also to be remembered. Dad and Uncle Jim are two people not to be forgotten under any circumstances, and to please them there are a score of attractive suggestions to be considered.

TOBACCO AND WINES

First, tobacco and wines. The TABACQUERIA FILIPINA has much that is attractive to offer in the former line. All cigars and cigarettes go out in special Xmas boxes for the duration of the Yuletide season. For more lasting presents, there are cigarette and cigar cases of all makes and prices.

A good suggestion is a tobacco chest for the bachelor who has a fondness for every one of his dozen pipes and no good place to keep them. There are also some smart looking table lighter sets, while ash-trays may be had in a number of styles, including the Donald Duck ash-tray that would be an attractive decoration in any room. A barrelful of Alhambra's would also be much appreciated in many quarters.

IN THE LINE OF BEERS

Then the wines. In the line of beers, there is a newcomer to the local market that is bound to please and has come to stay. L. RONDON & CO. have acquired the distributing rights to this new imported beer, brewed in Melbourne by the Carlton and United Breweries, Ltd.

A first choice among lovers of good beers in the Antipodes, Foster's Lager is bound to please and a case of it will make a good Christmas offering of goodwill and will be well-remembered. Grant's Whisky is another suggestion not to be overlooked, while Schlitz beer is still "tops" with a good number of people.

GRANT'S IS THE CHOICE

No true Scotsman, 'tis said, would frown at Grant's, and certainly not when it comes at Christmas. To one who would want to melt a Highland heart, it is scarcely necessary to digress from here. Grant's is the choice most of the time, and even with a good proportion of Lowlanders and all other good friends in the spirit of "Auld Lang Syne."

To some who will want to go further and remember those who are away, or isolated from their community of friends, or just lovers of good wines and happy to be remembered, there is nothing more suitable of offering than a Christmas and New Year Hamper. DODWELL'S wine department will take care of this for you, even to special hampers made to suit your own or your friend's particular requirements.

Another good whisky on the market and a favourite of a great number of people is Dewar's "White Label." They say it never varies and lovers of good Scotch daily pay their respects to it by "asking for Dewar's."

A. S. WATSON & CO.'S wine department will take care of your order. The bottles are attractively packed in a special Christmas box and are sure to be regarded by anyone as a right proper sample of Christmas cheer.

THREE HUNDRED CIGARETTES

Returning to the subject of tobacco, the BRITISH-AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. are offering Play-ers' Clipper Cigarettes in a very fine Christmas box. Three hundred cigarettes, plain or cork-tipped, can be presented to a friend in a very attractive Gift Carton at no extra cost.

To those who care neither for wines nor tobacco, a wonderful suggestion would be Ovaltine. A delightful beverage, Ovaltine pleases always and is supreme for health and vitality. A gift of Ovaltine would be a pleasant surprise in anyone's Christmas stocking, be the recipient adult or child.

CHARMING GIFTS OF APPAREL

For a large assortment of gifts in the way of male or female apparel, do not neglect to take a look in at MAYFAIRS. There are a 101 things to choose from, each a pleasant surprise to your friend who is thinking about or your boy friend, as the case may be.

For ladies' hats, and special offer a look-in at the MODE ELITE at Karamally Building would be well worth the while. Ask the wife or the girl friend, she will help with a suggestion. In the matter of furs, the ALASKA FUR STORE at Alexandra Fur Store has a large stock of the best and latest on view at the moment. There are a number of beautiful silver fox capes, the ladies would appreciate and a selection of jackets and coats—black seal, musquash, kolinsky, broadtail, etc.

STREAM-LINED CAMERAS

Christmas time brings with it many interesting moments, and would it not be nice to preserve some of these on film. FILMO DEPT. are just the people to do this for you. Their 1941 models have just arrived and the stream-lined 8 mm. cameras with single lens are a delight to handle.

Another good gift for your amateur photographer friends are the turret models that have such useful gadgets attached as titlers, splices, and a full complement of useful accessories. There are also many fine offers in the 16 mm. line.

For the holidays, Filmo Depot offer sound projectors with a complete programme of talking films that can be had for private entertainment for those who prefer to stay at home or have a big party at home for the children.

The Marina House office of Filmo Depot has a fine selection of cameras on view at the moment, with accessories of various kinds, and a nice display of Taylor instruments is also being exhibited. These include barometers, humidity guides and combination instruments.

FARE FOR THE TABLE

For Christmas fare for the table, remember the DAIRY FARM. Their stores in Hongkong and Kowloon have everything to offer for the Christmas table from soup to nuts. Farm fed and Australian choice turkeys have long since ceased gobbling and are awaiting claimants. Farm fed and imported geese, ducklings, pheasants, jacksnipe, woodcock, pigeons and quail are all to be had and there is a choice selection of hams.

Everything else in the way of food that smells of Christmas is also on sale from plum puddings to cranberry sauce.

Asked For Loan At Point Of Pistol

MAN GETS TWO YEARS' GAOL

Arraigned before the Chief Justice, Sir Atoll MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, on the charges of robbing Sin Shuk-lim of $300 at No. 105, Connaught Road West, on Oct. 22, and demanding, with menaces, the sum of $500 from Sin Shuk-lim at the same address on the same date, SUI CHEUK was found guilty on the first charge, and was sentenced to two years' hard labour. The second charge, which was an alternative one, was withdrawn by the prosecution.

Mr. J. P. Murphy, Assistant Crown Solicitor, assisted by Sub-Inspector R. Cunningham, prosecuted. The jury comprised Messrs. W. Hyde (Foreman), C. de M. C. Victor, Leong Hoo-mun, Shen Chung-fu, W. H. S. Davis, Leung Cho-tai, and R. J. Master.

Sin Shuk-lim, who was the assistant managing partner of the Mow Jung Tai rice shop, was in the office of his shop about 6.15 p.m. on Oct. 22 when accused entered the room and said that he was financially embarrassed and would like a loan of $500, emphasizing his request by pointing a pistol—which later was found to be a toy one—at complainant and the toki, Leung Chui.

AGREED TO PAY

After some bargaining, went on Mr. Murphy, Sin Shuk-lim agreed to pay over the sum of $300.

After the money had been handed over to him, Mr. Murphy, accused left and was trying to open the iron door of the room, Leung Chui, who was round accused and held him pinned. On the arrival of the Police, accused was handed over to the Police.

In a statement from the dock, accused said that he only asked the complainant for a loan of $500 in order that he might go to Shanghai. He was given only $300. Sin Shuk-lim, whom he had always called "uncle," misunderstood the matter and had him arrested.

JURY'S VERDICT AT INQUEST

A verdict of accidental death was returned by the jury at the Central Magistracy yesterday at an inquest on Tong Ling, 38, who died after being knocked down in King's Road, North Point, on Oct. 8, by a car driven by Lieut. J. L. C. Pearce, R. A.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K. C., sat as Coroner.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay held a watching brief on behalf of Lieut. Pearce, while the Police were represented by Sub-Ins. J. L. Clarke.

The Coroner said that Lieut. Pearce was driving towards town from Lyemun, with his brother, Lieut. T. A. Pearce, following him in another car. Driving at 30 miles an hour, they overtook Major Morgan in his car while approaching the North Point bathing sheds.

MADE A DASH

When near the Tsang Fook Piano Company, Lieut. J. L. C. Pearce saw a Chinese was about to cross the road. He sounded his horn but the man did not seem to take heed of the warning and not until the car was near did he make a dash for the opposite side of the road.

Immediately Lieut. Pearce applied the brakes and swerved, but could not avoid hitting the man. Dr. T. K. Lee, of the Queen Mary Hospital, said that death was due to a ruptured spleen and haemorrhage.

In evidence, Major Morgan confirmed that Lieut. Pearce was driving at 30 miles an hour when he overtook him.

Sgt. McInnes, Vehicle Inspector of the Police, said that he found the brakes of the car to be in good condition.

The jury attached no blame on Lieut. J. L. C. Pearce.

Sgt. Foreman R.A.O.C. Depot, Institute of Engineers and Shipbuilders, and others.

NEW WAR PHASE

THE PASSING of the initiative in the war into British hands, as indicated in the operations now going on in the Western Desert, marks a new phase in the hostilities both from a military as well as a diplomatic point of view. The effect of the Italian retreat into Libya before the relentless British advance cannot be exaggerated. Coupled with the Greek drive against Signor Mussolini's ill-conceived venture from Albania, the military situation in the Mediterranean war zone has changed completely in favour of Britain and her allies. These dramatic successes against the Axis war machine, has resulted in so weakening one of its component parts that a heavy strain is now likely to be thrown on the German ability to maintain it at its previous fighting strength. The consequence of these developments is that Italy will no longer count as a vital factor in the hostilities. It may be considered that it is a bit too early yet to make this statement, but when the Italian position is considered from all angles, it is easy to realise that only a miracle can save them from complete collapse.

THE FACT that this is admitted even in German circles is significant, because it shows how reluctant Herr Hitler, who must be the one to work the miracle, is to involve himself in further commitments in order to save his ally from utter disgrace. The German Fuehrer must realise that Signor Mussolini, despite the fact that he still has a large force in Libya, will find it extremely difficult to either reinforce his desert front or even his forces in Albania, with Britain now in full mastery of the sea and the air in that region. This is where the political effect of the British initiative will weigh most heavily. If it has placed Signor Mussolini in a serious predicament, it has provided Herr Hitler with a problem that will demand the best ingenuity to solve. With the many obstacles against him,

URBAN COUNCIL MEETING

Three Applications Refused

The fortnightly meeting of the Urban Council was held at the Council Chamber yesterday with the Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrle, chairman, presiding.

Applications for a restaurant licence for No. 400, Shanghai Street, ground floor, a laundry licence for No. 110, Electric Road, ground floor, and a milk shop licence for No. 49, Sing Wo Road, ground floor, were refused.

Licences granted by the Council between Dec. 3 and 16 were: Food shops, one; swine, five; and eating houses, one.

THOSE PRESENT

Those present at the meeting were the Hon. Mr. W. J. Carrle (Chairman), Dr. N. C. Macleod, Deputy Director of Health Services (Vice-Chairman), Hon. Mr. H. J. Pearce, Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Messrs. F. C. Hall, L. C. F. Bellamy, A. el Arculli, B. Wong Tze, Tang Shu-kin, Li Tse-tong, Dr. A. M. Rodrigues, C. J. Roe, (Sec.), and Im Ping-tseung (Asst. Sec.).

Herr Hitler dare not risk armed intervention to help Italy, either through the Balkans or by transporting troops to Libya to reinforce Il Duce's forces in that theatre of war.

IT IS UNDOUBTEDLY a quandary in which the Nazi leader now finds himself, but it is also certain that he cannot hesitate much longer on how he can meet the situation. Military observers now speak of the few alternative courses left open to him.

One is another diplomatic drive in Spain in order to enlist General Franco's help in closing the western end of the Mediterranean with an attack on Gibraltar. If he succeeds it will place Spanish Morocco at his disposal for an attempt to pull Signor Mussolini out of his mess. Another alternative which he will doubtless strive to exploit is to win the Vichy Government completely over to his side so as to permit the French Fleet to be used against Britain in the Mediterranean. The fact that M. Laval failed to do this will make the Fuehrer tread more cautiously than he did before, since he is well aware that the use of the mailed fist in France will find open revolution rising up to thwart his plans. His approval of M. Flaudin as M. Laval's successor shows that he is relying on diplomatic strategy to win his way with Vichy, though prospects for his success here appear to be growing more remote every day.

THE ONLY OTHER alternative is to direct his full attention again on England in an attempt to deliver a crushing blow, which will render her incapable of action in any of the other theatres of war. Ruthless air attacks alone on British women and children will, Herr Hitler knows now, not help him to achieve his objective. Neither will his submarine and aerial warfare on British shipping render Britain as impotent as he would like her to be. The battle will have to be carried on to British soil and to do this his original plans for invasion will have to be put into operation in the face of a British opposition that has increased in strength and determination, and against which his chances of success have deteriorated to such an extent. Thus, has a new phase in the hostilities been opened. No one can say for certain how it will develop, but there appears to be very little doubt, even in the most sceptical minds, as to the ultimate result.

CORRESPONDENCE

SYMPATHY OF SINO STUDENTS

The Editor, H.K. Daily Press.
Dear Sir,—The Canton University English Club sent a message to the President of the Board of Education through the Chinese Embassy in London to express their deep regret for the damage done to Eton College and schools in Birmingham by Nazi raiders.

"We learned with profound shock the large-scale destruction of educational institutions in England by the Nazi air force. We, the students of China, are now fighting side by side with your students because we both fight for a common ideal—justice and righteousness."

"In order to have a better understanding among students of the three great democratic countries, we propose the immediate formation of a Sino-British-American Students' Association for the promotion of goodwill with headquarters in Hongkong and branches in London, New York and Chungking. We sincerely request you to convey our proposition to the British University Students' Association for consideration."

"In the name of Chinese students, we beg to express our deep sympathy and pledge our moral support."

Mr. Wong Sang, of Salpo Village, has reported that jewellery valued at $160 was stolen from his house at 11 p.m. on Dec. 14.

A tweed jacket and a pair of flannel trousers to the total value of $100 were stolen from the house of Mr. G. Hart Davis at No. 32 Lugard Road at 2.45 a.m. yesterday.

Both articles were recovered within an hour later. Sgt. Willerton and a Chinese detective, while patrolling on Kotelwall Road, saw two men, one with the jacket on. The pants were recovered from a hiding place.

It is expected that further donations will be received by the same group, and will be handed over in due course.

CONFIDENCE IN THE FUTURE: IMPORTANT PART PLAYED BY WORKERS IN BRITISH WAR EFFORTS

"We are facing the future with confidence and that is where the overseas dominions and colonies can best assist us," declared MR. G. GIBSON, Chairman of the Trades Union Congress in Britain, when he broadcast in London yesterday on the part being played by British workers to help Britain to win the war.

At the outset of his talk, Mr. Gibson referred to the tremendous loss of material and equipment which had been lost in Dunkirk and the manner in which this loss had now been made good with such excellent results.

BUILDING AFRESH
"Military equipment, food supplies and everything else had to be abandoned that could not be destroyed," he said. "We had to build afresh and our task was a colossal one. We had to mobilise and train an army of millions. We had to replace everything that we had lost in France. We had to reinforce our air force with lightning speed. We had to strengthen our navy and we had to replace our losses in merchant shipping and we had to speed up production in all war trades."

"We had to do all this not only with an eye on the immediate needs of the situation, but with reference to the long term effort we realised that we had been called upon to make. Looking back upon these dark and anxious months," went on Mr. Gibson, "it would now seem that we have accomplished miracles. And yet, we have done it all with thoroughness. NO DICTATOR METHODS
"Above all, it must not be forgotten that it was not done by dictatorship. Dictators, it is true, have the power to make lightning decisions but, as they have discovered, to their cost, they can also make wrong decisions and in such cases they have the difficulty of sharing the blame. What they do is to claim responsibility for items on the credit side and to disclaim responsibility for items on the debit side and then, even the sheep-like people they govern have a limit to their patience and an end to endurance."

"When people talk about the superior efficiency of the dictatorship regimes, I grow impatient," declared Mr. Gibson. "I have no sympathy for the parrot-like cry of more dictatorial methods in this war. It wants a free people to decide on our machinery and the methods of the Government and the social and economic administration which can assure us of ultimate victory."

"The first part of our job has been done and done well. You will appreciate that it was no easy task to make an army of millions by drawing young men from their occupations without throwing the country into complete chaos. And yet this was done without any panic or chaos and it was done by putting the responsibility for the mobilisation of man-power into the hands of a civil department and then to entrust the department to an experienced Trade Union, so that even the fighting forces are now handled by our civil ministries."

GREAT EFFORTS
"The response from the overseas dominions have enabled us to realise how war conditions demand from them greater efforts in the field of production so that our armies in the field may be completely equipped and our air power and sea power adequately reinforced."

"To do this, British workers are prepared to make every sacrifice in fighting a relentless enemy."

"Mr. Gibson pointed out that dictators had to contend with obstruction and acts of sabotage in their war efforts not only in the countries they had conquered by force of arms, but even in their own territory where the rights of man had been destroyed."

"And now that one end of the Axis is reeling under the blow of the British forces, hope will again awaken in the hearts of those who have been waiting an opportunity to strike hard in the cause of freedom," declared Mr. Gibson. "From now on we shall be encouraged by the ever growing forces of our allies, including the Free French forces, and the internal problems of the dictators will be come greater."

CONFIDENCE IN FUTURE
"You cannot hope to win victories without receiving a hit now and again," he went on, "and we must anticipate further and more vigorous attacks. We are, however, facing the future with confidence and that is where the overseas dominions can best assist us."

"We already have the continued and practical goodwill of the United States and the increasing flow of supplies from that great reservoir have imbued us with the confidence that we shall destroy the enemies of humanity as personified by Herr Hitler and Signor Mussolini."

"The Greeks have set us an example and we are now in a position to take advantage of such opportunities wherever they are offered. We ask our friends and kinsmen overseas to do all in their power to enable us to add more weight to our blows."

"I am confident that we shall get that assistance more and more in the coming year. We are going to show that free men, fighting for democracy and freedom, are superior to the servile hordes of the dictators."

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ABOUT— RATIONING:

"We may not have such a variety of food, but we are certainly not short of it here," said MR. HOWARD MARSHALL, the well known commentator, in a talk on the home front from London recently.

Mr. Marshall mentioned the average menu available to an ordinary family daily—scrambled eggs on toast for breakfast, with milk and cream; soup and vegetables with mushrooms on toast for lunch; fish potatoes and vegetables for dinner. That did not show that there was any shortage, particularly when there were several days when meat was available.

"We are making the most of our food," he said, "and the authorities are doing their best to see that we know what is best and the most health giving food. The Minister of Food has just started a campaign which provides for women experts who give advice to housewives to help them in the special problems of wartime cooking and there is certainly a lot to learn."

AIR RAIDS:

MR. MARSHALL related a little story which showed the excellent standard of the British spirit and morale despite the air raids.

"It was after a particularly heavy raid," he said, "when I saw two old ladies getting into a bus—a bit shaken and tired, for their own little home had been bombed. They were on their way to Bermondsey and the bus was passing over Westminster Bridge."

"One old lady looked up and, jerking her thumb towards Big Ben said: 'Old Hitler has not got him yet' and the other old lady replied: 'No dear. And I am so glad as I have known Ben over there ever since he was quite a little clock.'"

"I wonder whether Herr Hitler understands just what that means," said Mr. Marshall.

NAZIS & HUMOUR:

The Germans, with their characteristic completeness, have been inquiring into the cause of their defeat in the last war.

"They have found that it was due to a large extent on their lack of humour, because they took everything in grim earnest and never smiled."

Now the Nazis have decided that German soldiers must learn to have a sense of humour and the army manuals now contain lessons on how to acquire this.

What is most amusing is that the lessons include the "Old Bill" cartoons of the last war, with his customary remarks which are always prefaced with the word "Blimey."

Extension Of Local Operations On Albanian War Front

THE EXTENSION OF LOCAL OPERATIONS ON THE ALBANIAN WAR FRONT is reported in a London message, which adds that the general situation there is satisfactory.

The Italians had opened a counter-attack with seasoned troops but were driven back with heavy losses and were continuing their retreat to the sea.

American Eagle Club Opened

American system, has arranged for you to have a few minutes every week on the air so that your folks at home will hear how you are getting along here.

"We hope you will bring all your friends here. We have planned this club and its services primarily for you, but it will be open to the members of all the fighting forces, no matter of what race, rank or nationality. (Cheers). "In our country, we Americans have a reputation for generous hospitality. Let us live up to it here."

SIR HARRY BRITAIN

Mr. Hutchinson then introduced to the audience Sir Harry E. Britain, whom he described as one of America's best friends in England.

Sir Harry said: Ladies and gentlemen—Let me first congratulate my good friend Mr. Hutchinson and the members of this club on the inspiration, energy and hard work which have resulted in the pleasing surroundings in which we meet today.

"May I say how privileged I am to take part in this ceremony. Almost instinctively, my mind goes back to 25 years ago, when in another world war, the American Officers' Club was founded. I had the honour of presiding over that club until the war was won. We had a happy time in that club and many a life-long friendship was formed. We did our best to bring into contact men of every sphere of life.

"We British are not a militaristic nation. We loathe war, but out of this present evil war thing has come and that is the understanding between our democratic empire and your United States.

"Our late Ambassador to your country, Lord Lothian, told you that we were winning the second round. We are and, with your help, we will stick to it. It is a privilege to welcome to this country the gallant lads who have come across the sea to join us in our fight for liberty.

"In conclusion, let me hope that all success will attend the future of the American Eagle Club."

The opening of the club was attended by a large and distinguished gathering and after the ceremony, the members of the H Gang entertained those present to a variety entertainment.

PETAIN WOULD HAVE BEEN PRISONER

REPORTS FROM VICHY EMPHASISE THAT IMPORTANT RESULTS MAY FOLLOW THE VISIT TO THE VICHY GOVERNMENT OF THE GERMAN AMBASSADOR, who is stated to be in close touch with M. Flaminio and M. Laval, and who is stated to have been involved in all the plots and conspiracies to drag France into the war with Britain and to place the French Fleet and bases at Germany's disposal.

It is now revealed that M. Laval was concerned in a scheme to get Marshal Petain to Paris where he would have been made a virtual prisoner. The intention was that with Marshal Petain in Germany's power the collaboration with Germany could have been carried to the extreme limits desired by Laval.

This version of the report says that Marshal Petain discovered the plot first and this resulted in Laval being taken into custody.

Whether this is so or not, the reports that Marshal Petain was going to Marseilles did not materialise, but it all points to the fact that Herr Hitler is trying hard to enlist French assistance against Britain.

M. Flaminio is reported to be suffering from influenza and may have to stay in bed for several days.

RE-EMPLOYMENT FOR MEN WHO ARE MOBILISED

A fine and a term of imprisonment is the penalty for an employer who fails to reinstate in his employ any employee who has been mobilised for war service.

This is one of the clauses of a draft ordinance, published in the Ceylon Government Gazette. The object of the Bill is to secure that every member of the Ceylon Defence Force or of the Ceylon Naval Volunteer Force, who has been mobilised for war service, shall, on the conclusion of such service, be reinstated in the civil employment in which he was engaged at the time he was so mobilised.

BREAK-UP OF ITALY:

MILITARY & POLITICAL EFFECTS OF BRITISH VICTORY IN DESERT

"Unless Herr Hitler has some trick up his sleeve, the break up of Italy is only a matter of time," said MR. VERNON BARTLETT, the well-known journalist-M.P., when he broadcast from London yesterday on the military and political problems which have arisen for the Axis Powers as a result of the British victory in the Western Desert.

Mr. Bartlett, referring to the military operations, stated that the British forces had employed every kind of trick to convince Marshal Graziani, the Italian Commander, that the Imperial Forces in Egypt were stronger than they really were.

ROAD MAKING

"Quite wisely," said Mr. Bartlett, "he might have been able to push along the coast to Alexandria. Instead of doing that, however, the Italians spent months on road making and this has now given the British the chance to pursue them."

Mr. Bartlett declared that the men employed on this road-making had come from places as much as five to six days journey away and they had to work under conditions of constant sandstorms, terrific heat and lack of cover from air attack.

"Mechanised transport can travel over a desert," said Mr. Bartlett, "but it plays the devil with machinery. I remind you of this for two reasons. One is to emphasise the difficulties which our men have had to overcome in advancing across the desert and the other is to emphasise the fact that the Italians who made such a dash forward to Sidi Barrani have now lost all their lines in a few days."

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Mr. Bartlett stated that although the British troops had to take precautions against counter-attack, much of the best of the Italian material had now fallen into British hands and most of the landing grounds had been put out of action by the British.

"Here again, we cannot afford to be too optimistic," went on Mr. Bartlett, "but these are reasons which must weigh heavily against any plans which the enemy might make."

"So that unless Herr Hitler has some surprise up his sleeve, the break of Italy is only a matter of time. The fact remains that what has happened now will have a great effect on Signor Mussolini's regime and on the outcome of the war."

Commenting on the suggestion that Germany might occupy Italy, Mr. Bartlett stated that the Italian people had seen too much of the way in which Catholics were treated in Germany to welcome any such proposal.

Mr. Bartlett was of the opinion that Signor Mussolini had miscalculated very badly when he joined Germany in the war against England. Italy would get no help from Herr Hitler unless he won and there were many Italians who were against their country going into the war on the German side.

ARDENT FASCISTS

"And now, Grandi, Balbo and a number of younger ministers have been deprived of their jobs or pushed into the background," said Mr. Bartlett.

"There are quite a number of ardent Fascists who might even attempt to take over the Government and carry on the war with more vigour."

After giving a brief picture of Signor Mussolini's own life, in which he pointed out that the Italian leader had been imprisoned on more than one occasion in the past, once in Tripoli for having no visible means of support, Mr. Bartlett said: "Libya and Albania have shattered Signor Mussolini's future. And now the question is: What will Herr Hitler do?"

Mr. Bartlett expressed the view that it would be a severe blow to the Italians if German troops were sent into Italy. If the Italians thought that the German troops were being sent to occupy Italy, they might welcome the efforts of the British to drive them out.

"I am wondering whether Herr Hitler will try to make the Mediterranean uncomfortable for Britain by other ways—through Spain, for instance," said Mr. Bartlett. "There is, of course, no evidence that General Franco is ready to do anything to help him and it must be remembered that the Free Frenchmen are becoming more anxious for a British victory, especially after the recent collapse of the Italian forces."

MARSHAL PETAIN

"Marshal Petain himself is not influenced in favour of working with Germany, because he wants to bring about a position which would enable the release of the French prisoners of war, who are doing forced labour in Germany and he will certainly not allow his country to take any active part against Britain."

"The possibility is that Herr Hitler will make a great effort to close the western end of the Mediterranean against us. I have no special information for saying this, but it is only just a hunch that he will try to persuade Spain to cause us trouble."

"The two obstacles to this are the danger of his lines being lengthened, and the growing reluctance of the Spaniards to come into the war at all. Herr Hitler is not as infallible as he is believed to be."

British Air Offensive Against Italy, Germany Maintained

THE BRITISH AIR OFFENSIVE AGAINST ITALY AND GERMANY again ranged far and wide on Monday, states a London message.

Attacks were made on Mannheim and there were several attacks on targets in Germany as well as over Italy and in East Africa. Berlin was raided again, and hits were scored on railway junctions and warehouses while shipyards at Kiel and Bremen were also attacked.

Off the coast of France, two German merchant ships were hit. Three British planes were lost in the operations over Germany, but all returned safely from the Italian operations, the most violent of which were directed on Naples.

Enemy raids on Britain were on a small scale. Bombs were dropped in the industrial parts

"An article in a German paper recently referred to the Greek forces as consisting of about 600,000 troops, 200 aeroplanes and an old warship. I wonder how Signor Mussolini feels about being defeated by a force held in such contempt by his friend Herr Hitler."

During the action, a line fell overboard fouling the propellers and Wilson, despite rough sea, went overboard and managed to clear the propellers.

This is related in the latest honours list, Wilson receiving the Military Medal for his courage.

According to the DAILY EXPRESS, despite the relative quietness of the German Air Force, Nazi factories are still turning out 2,000 planes a month and Italian aircraft are still kept in Belgian airfields despite the pressing needs of their own country.

DEATH OF FORMER C.J. OF CEYLON

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuters).—Sir Philip MacDonnell, formerly Judge of the High Court of Northern Rhodesia and afterwards Chief Justice of Trinidad and later Chief Justice of Ceylon, died in Southport from bronchitis.

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 17 (Reuters).—"President Baldomir was most cordial and I was treated everywhere as an old friend," declared Lord Willingdon, Head of the British Economic Mission, in an interview in which he expressed delight at the warmth of the mission's reception at Montevideo.

Mannheim was a mass of flames. The Germans admit that considerable damage was caused. British planes also bombed a submarine base at Bordeaux.

STORY OF GALLANTRY OF AIRCRAFTSMAN

LONDON, Dec. 17 (REUTERS).—THREE SHIPS OF ONE CONVOY WERE BURNING FURIOUSLY WHEN 14 INJURED MEN WERE RESCUED BY A HIGH SPEED LAUNCH.

Later, when attempting to rescue the personnel from two planes which had fallen into the sea, nine enemy planes attacked the launch with incendiaries which started a fire, and with machine-gun bullets which killed one member of the crew and injured two others.

In these circumstances, AIRCRAFTSMAN WILSON, who had already taken a conspicuous part in the rescue work, took over control of the launch in the heat of the action and continued the rescue work until the captain recovered.

During the action, a line fell overboard fouling the propellers and Wilson, despite rough sea, went overboard and managed to clear the propellers.

This is related in the latest honours list, Wilson receiving the Military Medal for his courage.

From the nature of his duties, Moxey was fully aware of the risks and danger of the operation. One of the bombs exploded, causing his death.

POSTHUMOUS AWARD

LONDON, Dec. 17 (British Wireless).—The posthumous award of the George Cross to SQUADRON LEADER ERIC MOXEY is announced today.

In August last Sq. Ldr. Moxey, who was a Flying Officer observer in the last war, was Technical Intelligence Officer at the Air Ministry and volunteered to remove two unexploded bombs embedded in an aerodrome.

From the nature of his duties, Moxey was fully aware of the risks and danger of the operation. One of the bombs exploded, causing his death.

SENTENCES TOTALLING 10 YEARS IMPOSED ON EIGHT MEN

POSSESSION OF ARMS TRIALS

SENTENCES OF 15 MONTHS' HARD LABOUR WERE IMPOSED BY MR. JUSTICE E. H. WILLIAMS AT THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS yesterday on eight men who were found guilty on charges of unlawful possession of arms and ammunition.

In the first case the defendants were Li Wai, Kwok Yun, Tso On, Shek Leung and Tso Chung, who were charged with the unlawful possession of two revolvers, 17 rounds of ammunition, two daggers and a knife at Shaikwan on Nov. 18. Li Wai, Tso On, Tso Chung had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Mr. J. Reynolds, Crown Counsel, assisted by Det. Sub-Ins. W. N. Darkin, prosecuted. The following jury was empanelled:—S. A. Benn (Foreman), R. G. Castleton, A. dos Ramos R. Shun Wah, Tam Man-yim, A. Fok Nai-keung, and J. V. da Luz.

OUTLINE OF CASE

In his outline of the case, Mr. Reynolds said that at about 7 a.m. on Nov. 19 a Police party, led by Insp. W. A. Russell, and acting on information, went to an unnumbered house at Holy Cross Path, Shaikwan, to search for arms. All the defendants were found in the house.

In a drawer near the partition the knife was found. Near the wall was a small table under which the police found a piece of tin, under which, again, was a small piece of wood.

LOADED REVOLVERS

On removing the latter an earthen jar, cemented into the ground, was revealed. In this jar, continued Mr. Reynolds, were found two revolvers, each loaded with five rounds of live ammunition, two daggers and another seven rounds of ammunition in a tin.

When charged both defendants elected to make statements. Kwok stated that the revolvers belonged to Tso On and to Chung and the dagger belonged to Li Wai; while Shek stated, "the arms belonged to the four of us. The arms were brought down by Li Wai."

ARMOURER'S TESTIMONY

Sgt. Perkins, Police Armourer, testified that the first revolver, a .45, was in good working order, and the second, a .38, was in fair working order but both had not been fired for some time.

After further evidence was given by Insp. Russell both defendants elected to make statements.

Second accused said that he came to the Colony to buy something and went to visit Li Wai. He knew nothing about the arms and ammunition. It was only while he was being detained that he learned that the arms and ammunition belonged to Tso On and Tso Chung.

VISITING LI WAI

Fourth accused also denied that he knew anything about the arms and he was in the house because he was visiting Li Wai.

and Yu Chin of a piece of clothing at Cap Sul Mun on Dec. 5.

Growing Indian Market For Malay Palm Oil Likely

Experiments in India have shown that the vitamin A contained in the Malay palm oil can be used in tackling nutrition problems in that country. This, has resulted in India ordering the first bulk supply of the oil from Malaya which, it is confidently expected, will mark the beginning of a growing trade with India in this commodity.

Referring to this new development, the Malayan Agricultural Journal says that medical authorities have shown that the red palm oil may be used in place of the more expensive cod-liver oil as a source of Vitamin A.

Following up a report concerning nutritional problems in India, says the Journal, to which our attention was drawn, we have succeeded in interesting the Indian Government in red palm oil.

In the first place small samples of oil were submitted, followed at the request of the Indian medical authorities by a larger sample. This has resulted in the first bulk order. Confident as we are in the quality of Malayan oil we feel certain that a market may be established in India, and there is reason to believe that nutritional problems in certain other countries may be met in a similar way.

Looking further ahead, the Department is investigating the question of variable bleaching of palm-oil with the object of ensuring a standard product. In another direction an examination is being made of the possibility of finding new markets for the Liquid and solid fractions of palm oil, and new markets for the now almost unsaleable kernels.

It is possible that any or all of these new avenues may result in new markets for the oil, which, equally possible, these new markets may be able to absorb but a small proportion of our products. Conversely, our present investigations may prove of permanent value to these industries.

Possibly the present disorganisation of markets may ultimately be to the advantage of producers. It must be remembered that while producers are experiencing difficulty in finding a market, many industries are also finding difficulty in obtaining their usual supplies of raw materials.

The latter are, therefore, more alive than in normal times to the possibility of utilising new or substitute products to fill their immediate requirements. Advantage must be taken of such opportunities and it may therefore be that ultimately Malaya may find new markets and thus widen her commercial interests. (Malaya Tribune).

HIGHER PRICE FOR THAI RICE

By a policy of selling stocks from the Rice Pool against the purchases made by Government, the Food Controller has been able to keep the price of Thai rice at a low level, in spite of the heavy increases which have taken place in the Bangkok market during the past three months.

This has been possible because Government has passed on to the public the benefit of the low prices, at which the stock was originally purchased, without regard to the prices paid on replacement of stocks, says the Malaya Tribune.

It is no longer, however, possible to maintain prices so far below outside market levels and in an order published today, new prices are fixed for the sale of Thailand rice by wholesale and retail.

Although the increases amount to 1½ cents per katy, it must be remembered that the public has benefitted, very greatly, for some months past by the policy followed by Government, and that, though present prices may appear to be high, in comparison with those ruling a year ago, they are still moderate and are less than one-third of those which obtained at the end of the last war.

Prices for Burma white and parboiled rice remain very low in comparison with Thai rice, as also prices for Annam rice.

MALAYAN PINEAPPLE INDUSTRY CAN SURVIVE PRESENT SLUMP

Although the Malayan pineapple industry is now passing through a most difficult period owing to the dislocation of usual markets, the various steps taken in the past decade to stabilise the industry have increased its capacity to withstand the present slump till normal conditions are restored.

Whereas formerly the fruit was grown as a catchcrop with rubber, at present most of the area under pineapple is planted as a sole crop.

The conditions under which the fruit is canned have been much improved in many directions, and several factories have been entirely rebuilt and re-equipped.

Rigorous attention is paid to cleanliness and legal authority given to close down any factory in which strict hygienic conditions of packing are not maintained.

The pioneers of the Malayan pineapple canning industry were fortunate in that they were able to place on the world market a tropical delicacy at a very moderate price. Markets were easily established and held, for the competition of canned pineapples and other fruits was not strong.

In recent years, however, market conditions have become more difficult and exacting, canned pineapples are now produced in several countries, and there is also a very much wider range of canned fruits on the market due to a large measure to the growth of the fruit-canning industry in the United Kingdom.

It must also be remembered that the marketing of fresh fruit with the aid of cold storage has made considerable headway in recent years.

The housewife is only prepared to outlay a certain sum of money on the purchase of fruit, and the wider variety of fresh and canned fruits available in and out of season has had its repercussions on the canned pineapple industry.

These various problems have been met in Malaya by a reorganisation of the industry and by previous systematic and thorough research work into all branches.

NEW LEASE OF LIFE
Innovations are, perhaps, slow to be accepted by those who have found the way easy in the past, but whatever may be said of the hesitations in the past, there is no doubt that the present reorganisation, supported by legal authority, has given the pineapple industry a new and it is to be hoped—a long lease of life.

The value of closer co-operation between those interested in various aspects of the industry is already evident. The present market situation created by the war has confronted the industry with new problems of control and marketing.

While losses consequent upon curtailment of our markets are inevitable, it is certain that the present organisation is in a better position to cope with these difficulties than was the industry before the creation of the Central Board of Pineapple Packers and the Growers' Association, and confidence is felt that their combined efforts will bring the industry through the difficulties created by the war. (Malaya Tribune).

Important Decisions At Engineers' Meeting

CHENGDU, Dec. 17 (Central).—A number of important decisions were reached at the fifth session of the ninth annual meeting of the Chinese Engineers' Society held here under the chairmanship of Mr. Chen Li-fu, Minister of Education.

One of the decisions calls for a strict investigation whether any of the members have changed their allegiance to the Japanese. Another calls for the collection of $300,000 as a sinking fund for the Society, the interests therefrom will be used to defray expenditures. Other decisions concern the organization of a commission to compile Chinese engineering terms, a committee to study the draft monopoly law, an engineering education association to train men in the engineering field, a resources investigation corps to inspect the natural resources in the interior, and a committee to study the industrial plan laid down by Dr. Sun Yat-sen.

It was also decided to compile Chinese books on engineering subjects. June 8, the birthday anniversary of Emperor Yu in the 2226-2223 B.C., was fixed as the Chinese Engineers' Day. Emperor Yu is known for his efforts at water conservancy in the great deluge period.

The next annual meeting of the Society will be held at Kwelyang, but the exact date has not been fixed.

FLOOD HAVOC IN TURKEY

Simay, Hanife Rivers Overflow Banks

ISTANBUL, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—Widespread floods cause serious damage in Anatolia.

Torrential rains have swollen the Simay and Hanife rivers which again inundated the districts which were flooded last year. The low-lying regions in the province of Smyrna are also under water.

So far no casualties are reported but the damage is considerable. Snowstorms and bitter cold are reported throughout Turkey.

BELGIAN PRISONERS OF WAR RELEASED

LONDON, Dec. 17 (Reuter).—German soldiers in Brussels salute Belgian reserve officers returning from prison camps but do not salute Italian Air Force officers according to the Free Belgian news agency.

Although Belgian prisoners of war are now being released their return will take a long time. The Agency also reports that food shops in Belgium closed owing to shortage of supplies and it is believed that local authorities will have to undertake the distribution of primary foodstuffs.

SINO SOLDIER FREED ON MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

THAT THE DECEASED HAD AN ABNORMALLY THIN SKULL WHICH WAS IN MANY PLACES TRANSLUCENT—that there was no fracture of the skull nor any disease of the brain or the coverings of the brain—and that deceased died of intercranial haemorrhage and laceration of the brain, and cerebral congestion due to fears caused by anticipation of a blow—were among the interesting points contained in the evidence of Dr. I. Newton, Medical Officer in charge of the Kowloon Hospital, in the case in which Wu Kwong-in, a Chinese soldier interned in the Argyle Street Internment Camp, was arraigned before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Supreme Court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter.

CEMENTING CHINA-BURMA RELATIONS

JOURNALISTS ON GOODWILL VISIT

CHUNGKING, Dec. 17. (Central)—Evidence closer relations between China and Burma, a party of Burmese journalists will shortly arrive in China on a goodwill visit.

The party is scheduled to leave Rangoon for Kuming on Dec. 23 by air and after a brief stop-over they will continue their journey to Chungking.

During their forthcoming visit here, the Burmese newspapermen will call on Chinese Government leaders and the British Ambassador, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr. They will also visit the cultural organisations and industrial plants.

After concluding their stay here, they will proceed to Chengtu on Jan. 7 and return to Lashio by air on Jan. 14.

TEN TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Ten traffic accidents were reported in the Central district yesterday. Of these six were collisions between vehicles while four persons were knocked down.

Van No. 1743, of the Sanitary Department, collided with a private rickshaw at Bonham Strand East, near Hillier Street, while private cars No. 5821 and No. 1855 had a crash at Hollywood Road, near Lyndhurst Terrace.

ANOTHER COLLISION

Another collision between private cars No. 1527 and 2468 was reported at the car park, opposite King's building.

Private car No. 5322 collided with a lorry at Queen's Road, near Jackson Road. A tricycle crashed into private car No. 5629 near Queen's Road Central.

While driving along, Queen's Rd., near Wellington Street, Ip Kwan, driver of motorbus No. 614 knocked down a Chinese woman. A learner driver, Chan Poh-suen, also knocked down a Chinese at Ice House Street, near Lower Albert Road.

Tong Po-man knocked down a woman, Chan Sim-hing, at Calne Road.

JUNK MASTER SHOT DEAD

The master of trading junk No. T2126H was shot dead and a fowl was seriously injured when the craft was attacked by pirates who stole cargo, to the value of $800, and $5,000 in Chinese currency.

According to a report made to the Police, the robbery occurred on Dec. 14 about 10 miles south of Sam Mel.

The master of trading junk No. T3870H also reported that his craft had been burned and a quantity of salt, valued at $1,800, stolen by pirates outside Colonial waters. The total loss was estimated to be $4,800.

THE WEATHER

Maximum temperature yesterday was 72 and the minimum 63. Total rainfall since January 1 is 117.59 inches against an average of 84.62.

The Royal Observatory report states:—

The anticyclone is now very intense, and covers the whole of China and the neighbouring seas. The northern depression is centred near Tokyo, moving E. or N.E. Pressure remains low in a trough extending from the Visayas to the Caroline Islands.

ON VISIT TO THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17. (Reuter)—Princess Juliana is expected to arrive here tomorrow morning on a three-day visit to the White House after which she is going to New York for a further three days prior to returning to Canada.

F.M.S. PETITION AGAINST INCOME-TAX

As already exclusively announced in the Malaya Tribune, the F.M.S. are sending a petition to Lord Lloyd, Secretary of State for the Colonies, strongly opposing the proposal to impose income-tax.

The petition has been drawn up on behalf of "agricultural, mining, trade, commercial and industrial interests in the F.M.S." and declares that the imposition of income-tax would be a "major blunder."

Like in the Colony, the petitioners draw attention among other reasons, to the very great difficulties and heavy expense which income-tax would impose, and the great danger of more widespread corruption in the country than is the case at present.

Further, the F.M.S. petitioners declare themselves "strongly opposed" to the introduction of the tax "merely to facilitate" its imposition in the Colony. They point out that in the last war, an income-tax was levied in the S.S. but not in the F.M.S.

COLD GRIP IN S.E. EUROPE

South-East Europe is in the grip of increasing cold weather and within the next few days many ports on the Danube will be frozen, according to a message from Belgrade quoted in a London message.

Shipping in the Yugoslav sections of the river has stopped because of ice in the Danube and Germany's main route of supplies for petrol and other commodities will be closed until spring. This will considerably delay the transport of the things which Germany needs.

R.A.F. RAIDS:

HEAVY BOMBS PLASTERED ON BERLIN POWER PLANTS

LONDON, Dec. 17. (Reuter)—Railway communications, munition factories and power plants were attacked by British heavy bombers which were over Berlin on Sunday night and in the early hours of yesterday morning, says the Air Ministry.

The first of our bombers reached Berlin just before 9 p.m. Despite the cloud, some of the pilots in the early raids found what they were seeking immediately while others had to make their way to alternative targets. Nevertheless our pilots recognised and attacked several factories and railway targets.

The next series of raids began at 3 a.m. and lasted well over an hour. The weather was then much better and visibility excellent.

Power stations, railway junctions and goods yards were now the chief objectives. A stick of heavy high explosive bombs fell right in the centre of a railway junction and immediately started fires which were still increasing as our aircraft left.

At another junction, where some of the heaviest bombs were dropped, there were bursts all along the sidings. A great cloud of black smoke rose high in the air while debris was flung even higher by the explosion of the bombs.

LARGE FIRES

Two large fires were started at one power station.

A smaller force of bombers attacked the west harbour at Frankfurt, where there is a great collection of warehouses, factories, grain elevators and oil plants, for well over two hours.

The free port of Bremen was also attacked.

NO BRITISH LOSSES

"An attack on a number of important targets in the Berlin area, including railways, factories and public utilities," is mentioned in an R.A.F. communiqué describing Sunday night's activities.

Smaller forces of the R.A.F. bombed the inland port of Frankfurt-on-Maine and neighbouring targets, while Kiel shipyards and Bremen were also attacked.

The communiqué adds that during the course of the operations, R.A.F. bombers observed enemy merchant vessels off the French coast, and attacked them, scoring direct hits.

No British aircraft are missing.
